

Watch ✨ Read ✨ Listen

IMPACTUM recommends

Podcasts

Title	Host	Info
On Human Rights Link	Raoul Wallenberg Centre for Human Rights	This podcast tells the stories of political prisoners around the world risking it all for something bigger than themselves: a better future for all of us.
Harvard Law and Philosophy Podcast Link	Harvard Law School Law and Philosophy Society	The official podcast of the Harvard Law School Law and Philosophy Society.
To The Righthouse Link	Global Campus of Human Rights	Much as a Lighthouse warns of dangers and guides travellers towards safety, the podcast Righthouse alerts to risks for human rights and points towards secure protection.
Justice Visions Link	UGent	Every month the Human Rights Centre of Ghent University talks to experts and practitioners about cutting-edge research and practice regarding victim participation in transitional justice
IMPACTUM in CONTEXT Link	UGent	A space dedicated to discuss and learn about human rights from a multidisciplinary, multicultural and contextual perspective. We talk to academics, experts as well as members of human rights organisations , and discuss the most current human rights issues with a critical and constructive vision.
Africa Rights Talk Link	Centre for Human Rights of Pretoria University	This podcast explores human rights through conversations with academics, practitioners and activists.
Tegenvoets Link	Van Steenbrugge Advocaten	The view of 2 lawyers on current events and society. Walter Van Steenbrugge and Johan Vande Lanotte examine what is going on in both society and law and justice.
Freedom, Dignity and Justice for All Link	United Nations	The podcast explores how the UDHR came to be the blueprint for international human rights; feature interviews with human rights activists, experts and defenders; and give concrete examples of how to use the UDHR to address human rights challenges.
Penal Reform International Podcast Link	Penal Reform International	Penal Reform International (PRI) is an independent non-governmental organisation that develops and promotes fair, effective and proportionate responses to criminal justice problems worldwide.
Écouter aux portes Link	Prison insider	More than 11 million people are incarcerated around the world, often forgotten. Prison Insider suggests breaking this silence by presenting stories and perspectives to understand what confinement means.

Power of the Streets  Link	Human Rights Watch	Power of the Streets is a podcast about how we speak truth to power. In a series of intimate interviews, host Audrey Kawire Wabwire brings us the achievements and stories of the young people driving Africa's human rights movement.
On the Side of Humanity  Link	Amnesty International	This series explores the last 25 years of defending human rights. Amnesty International's Tatyana Moyshovich meets courageous activists from Chile, the U.S., Nepal, Ireland and Ghana who are fighting for the rights of the marginalised and risking their lives because of it.
Understanding Latin American Politics  Link	Prof Dr Gregory Weeks (Charlotte University)	This podcast looks at the current political situation in Latin America and tries to make sense of it.
La Advertencia  Link	Diego Luna	The Warning is a documentary podcast about impunity, corruption and the paths to political justice, based on an analysis of the recent history of Guatemala, which despite being mired in corruption, achieved the resignation of its president.
Unpacking Latin America  Link	Prof Dr Vicky Murillo (Columbia University)	Monthly podcast on the exciting research produced by Columbia scholars about Latin American history, culture, and politics, which helps our understanding of the contemporary challenges of the region.
The Human Rights podcast  Link	Irish Centre for Human Rights	Debates and discussions with world-leading practitioners, researchers, academics and policy-makers in the field of human rights and its associated disciplines.